Numb. 3588

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday March 28. to Monday April 1. 1700.

From the Saxon Camp before Riga, Mar. 22. N. S.

GEneral Fleming has appointed 4000 Saxons for the attack of the Danamunder Fort, who are accordingly posted near the Place; 'Twas intended before now to have made an Assault upon the said Fort, but the Suedes have with their Cannon ruined two of our chief Batteries, which we are now repairing, and the Assault is deferred till this be finished. In the mean time we continue to fire upon the Town of Riga from the Kober-Schans and other Batteries, and the Suedes with their Cannon make a continual fire upon us. There has nothing remarkable happened in our Camp since the Sally of the Suedes from Riga on the 18th Instant mentioned in our last, in which we took above 40 Prisoners, and most of the rest were killed. The Starost Oginsky is come hither from Lithuania. We expected a Train of Artillery and a Supply of Ammunition from Mariembourg, but the Magistrates of that Place have refused to furnish the same.

Mittaw, March 22. There has passed no Action at Riga since the Sally on the 18th Instant, whereof we have these farther Particulars. The Suedes came out of the Town to the number of 300, and dividing themselves in two Parties, one commanded by the Sieur Tiesenhuysen attacked the Saxons, while the other came slowly on to assist and support them in their Retreat; But the Sieur Tiesenhuysen's Party was charged by a greater number of Saxons, and most of them cut to pieces or taken before the others could come up to their Assistance, who thereupon retired to the Town in much disorder, and the Sieur Tiesenhuysen died presently after he was taken Prisoner. We hourly expect an Account of the Saxons having stormed the Dunamunder Fort, but the Weather being changed to a Thaw has so swelled the River Duine, that it has overflowed its Banks, and laid part of the Land about the said Fort under Water, which will render this Enterprize the more difficult. The Sieur Oginsky is come into the Saxon Camp from Lithuania; but Prince Sapieha, General of the Forces of that Dutchy, still refuses to send any Troops to the Assistance of the Saxons, and it's said the Lithuanians are generally dissatisfied with the Siege of Riga. There is nothing further said of any of the Muscovites Troops being on their March to join the Saxons.

Dantzick, March 27. Our last Advices from Warsaw say, the Cardinal Primate had acquainted the Swedish Resident, that he was directed by the King of Poland to order him to depart the Court; But the Cardinal further added, that there being no War declared between the Crown of Sweden and the Republick of Poland, he might continue at Warsaw as Resident to the Republick, and that he would take him into his Protection. The Magistrates of the City of Mariembourg being desired to send some Cannon to the Saxon Camp before Riga, have refused it; And the Polanders in general seem inclined to continue in Peace with the Suedes.

Copenhagen, March 30. The Discourse continues, that the King of Denmark will go to Holstein about the middle of the next month; An Express was sent thither this day, with Orders it's said to the Duke of Wirtemberg, to attack the Duke of Holstein's new Forts. Great diligence is used in fitting out our Fleet, which is to cruize on the Coasts of Sweden, to prevent any Succours being sent from thence to Holstein. The young Count of Raventlau, who was lately sent to the Courts of Vienna, Dresden, and Berlin, is returned hither, and waited upon the King yesterday to give him an account of his Negociations.

Vienna, March 24. The present Posture of Affairs in the North, has been the Subject of several Conferences between the Emperor's Ministers, and some of the Foreign Ministers residing here; The Emperour is resolved to employ his Offices to preserve the Peace of the North, and Orders to this purpose are sent to the Imperial Ministers in those Parts. The Turkish Ambassador will shortly begin his Conferences with the Deputies appointed by the Emperor to treat with him concerning the Matters he has to propose to this Court. The Count de Sauran, Hereditary Marshal of the Dutchy of Styria, and Commander of the Garrison of this City, died some days ago. They write from Croatia, that the Bassa of Bosnia has signified to Count Marsigly, that he had received Orders from the Sultan, to resume the Conferences for adjusting the Differences about the Dependencies of Novi, and that they were accordingly to meet in few days to regulate that Matter, after which Count Marsigly and the Turkish Commissioners would go and settle the Boundaries of the Imperial and Turkish Dominions in Transilvania and Upper Hungary. Our last Advices from Constantinople say, Count Oting is treated there with great Kindness and Respect, and that the Grand Signior has ordered, that all the Germans taken during the late War, who may yet remain Prisoners in Turkey, and especially such as are in his Galleys, shall be forthwith released. The Negociation at Constantinople between the Czar of Muscovy's Envoy and the Grand Signior's Ministers for the making a Peace, or prolonging the Truce, goes on very slowly, by reason the Turks still insist on the restitution of Azoph, and the Muscovites are positively resolved not to part with a Place of such Consequence.

Hanover, March 30. The Country People are summoned to send in Horses and Wagons for the Service of the Hanover Forces, which are very soon to join with those of the Duke of Cell, in order as is said to assist the Duke of Holstein. Monsieur du Heron, Envoy from France at this Court, has Orders to repair to Warsaw with the same Character; 'Tis said, the Errand he is sent on, is to offer the King his Master's Mediation for accommodating the Differences between the Kings of Sueden and Poland.

Francfort, April 1. The Landgrave of Hesse Cassell arrived here two days ago incognito from Venice, where he has been to partake of the Diversions of the Carnaval, and this day